We are excited to share this month's translational research, published by the Crime Victims' Institute, which presents an investigation into the effects of COVID-19 lockdowns on domestic violence by Dr. Chelsey Narvey. This report is titled, "Collaterals of COVID-19: The Effects of Lockdowns on Domestic Violence."

Information presented in this publication include domestic violence trends and statistics from the Dallas area prior to the lockdowns and after the implementation of lockdowns, with a discussion of how stay-at-home orders affected domestic violence victimization.

We hope you find the enclosed report helpful and informative. As always, we encourage you to share your thoughts about this report and to provide suggestions for research topics or questions that you might have.

Sincerely,

Mary M. Breaux, Ph.D.
